

TSRS

User Rule Submission Guidelines

By Thom Wilson

Contents

Introduction	1
Section 1 – Submission Instructions	1
Section 2 – Submission Template	2

Template Instructions

It is highly recommended that you review all of the instructions before filling out the template submission.

This template is a Word document. All information should be added in the text boxes. This document should also open in OpenOffice for those that do not use Microsoft products.

If you would like to submit multiple ideas with different categories, please fill out a template for each. If you have a few ideas for the same game and submission category, you can use a single template.

Step 1: Enter Your Name

Enter your name in the name text box, as you'd like it to appear in the website and any future printed publications. If you use your full name, it will be shown that way.

Step 2: Game Category

Choose a game category by highlighting the textbox and changing the format to include a color fill (like circling the answer bubble in an electronic quiz). Although it is possible for your submission to fit more than one game category, try to select the best one only.

Step 3: Submission Category

Choose a category that your submission best fits. Like in Step 2, highlight the textbox and add a color fill. If more than one submission category fits, select them both/all.

Step 4: Submission Content

Use the large text box to add your submission idea. Cut and paste or type the content of your submission here. If the space provided is not enough, continue on for as many pages as you need.

Please note that I have the right to edit your content if necessary. I likely will not change your idea with respect to mechanics, tables, or the like, but will edit out most profanity, or fix drastic spelling errors or syntax so that readers may better understand what you are trying to say (it is likely that I will contact you with questions to clear up any confusing content). If you do not like that I may edit your content in this way, you should probably not submit anything.

For these submissions, the template is preferred to attachment documents. The adventure submission instructions require an attachment.

What Happens After Submission

After you submit your work, I or one of my trusted play testers will review the submission and contact you with feedback and/or a timeline to website posting. As stated above, the submission may be edited for certain content and/or cleaned up. The submission will be converted from the original Word or OpenOffice document into a PDF. The new document will then be added to the user submission section of the site under the appropriate area for players to see.

Once submitted, your work becomes the property of throwigames - however, you will have full credit for the idea.

Introduction

At the time of this writing, the user community for TSRS is still quite small. Currently, the throwigames.com website sees only a few downloads per week. In anticipation for an increase in both site traffic and attention to this new and exciting fantasy roleplaying system, I've developed this handy little rules submission guidelines document.

This document is straightforward and simple; the first half details instructions on how to fill out the submission template, the second half is the submission template itself. Why do I need a submission template you ask? Well, the categorization of the submission helps me organize it so that it can be found by other players! I'm guessing you don't want to waste your time publishing an idea that no one can find or read.

Until the throwigames.com website has an online submission form, we'll use this template for general submissions. Note that there is a separate submission process for adventures.

It is also possible that some submissions may become part of the TSRS guidelines, monster or treasure guides. Credit will be given for those whose ideas make their way in to the core product lines. By submitting ideas with this template or future website form, you are authorizing me to use this content on the website or in future TSRS materials. You also recognize that there is no compensation associated with this submission (i.e. you won't be paid by throwigames for this work).

Be sure to fill out the submission template as fully as you can. The more you give me to work with, the better I can place it for others to use. And don't forget the content too!

Enjoy!

Thom Wilson

Legal and Notice

Copyright © 2012 by Thomas R. Wilson, throwigames.com. All rights reserved worldwide. May not be copied or distributed without prior written permission with the exception of personal roleplaying use.

TSRS1051, 1st Printing, November 2012

Submission Template

Please enter your name (as you'd like it to appear on the website):

Game Category

Choose a game category that best fits your submission.

- TSRS Core System Guidelines
- TSRS Variant: Western Game
- TSRS Variant: Science Fiction Game
- TSRS Variant: Espionage Game
- TSRS Variant: Horror Game
- TSRS Variant: Other

Submission Category

Choose one or more submission categories that best fit.

- TSRS General Guidelines
- TSRS Combat Guideline
- TSRS Magic Guideline
- TSRS Difficulty Rating Guideline
- TSRS Adventurer Guideline
- TSRS Specialization Guideline
- TSRS Experience Guideline
- TSRS New Monster / Fo
- TSRS New Weapon Item
- TSRS New Armor Item
- TSRS New Treasure Item
- TSRS Trap, Puzzle or Lock
- TSRS Other Guideline

Submission Content

Please add your submission content here (or reference an attachment if necessary). Use additional space as necessary.

Bringing Your Brain Back to the Game

Throwigames.com